

As in "Come And Get It!" the listener will likewise experience clearly all the American musical roots of the band, but this time with an even fresher mood. From "That's All Right Mama", which is the opening song of the album, Dan Peters' and his new gang's (Derek Brand playing the bass and Graig Marsh on the drums) intentions are pretty obvious: It's party time!!! Having adopted a technique that reminds us of the Stray Cats, without becoming their copycats, however, they offer us 10 outstanding songs, 8 of which are their own. "Keep It In The Family" is the country-billy masterpiece that will most definitely originally steal the hearts of the audience and radio producers, but soon one could discover a real goldmine... "Slick Black Cadillac Daddy", "Can't Get A Brake", "Your Love Is Evil"... It's hard to choose one over the other. Among them the intro "Little Doggies" where Peters gives guitar paces of skill, speed and feeling, without being yapping even for a single second!
