

One of the hottest garage albums of the year is coming from Uppsala of icy Sweden. Rumor has it that the band's master mind Magnus Jansson has travelled through tyme machine, back to the fab 60's. He has experienced garage punk since its birth from the Midwest, to Northeast and after a quick stop in New England State, he flied away to the Old Albion land where American Rhythm 'n' Blues was reborn by European musicians. Throughout his journey he gathered infinite sounds, senses and feelings, jumped back into his tyme capsule and returned to the year 2009.

Even though someone would expect to hear a kinda nostalgic, vintage 60's sound, he'd definitely be surprised by the unforeseen pure garage energy that describes exactly the way this kind of music must be performed!

We can say for sure that this release will be adored by both kinds of garage psych fans: Sixties era purists, as well as neo-garage lovers.
